

The image shows a 5x5 grid with a gray border. The grid is composed of 25 cells. The top-right cell is missing, and the right side of the grid is partially cut off. The grid is surrounded by a gray border, with the top and bottom borders being thicker than the left and right borders. The right side of the grid is partially cut off, with the top-right cell missing and the right side of the grid being partially cut off.
